How to Act as an Executor

Speaker: Bob Trunchion,
MacIntyre Hudson Advisory Services

OBJECTIVES

In the past many practitioners have turned down opportunities to act as executors of clients' wills due to difficulties in obtaining probate and the need to involve another professional.

As it is now possible for some accountants to apply for grants of probate, there is a real opportunity for practitioners to participate in this profitable area, where you can provide a real and lasting service to your clients.

The course is designed to act as a brief refresher on wills and estate planning. It will also be looking to demystify probate and its attendant procedures. One area, which will be looked at, is the relationship with solicitors, as it is important to work with them rather than against them in view of traditional relationships.

CONTENT

The course is split into two. The first part concentrates on getting your client to die "efficiently" by ensuring a properly structured will is in place. The second part concentrates on the process of probate.

- Wills and estate planning
- The family - husbands and wives, intestacy and provision for dependents
- The business - business property relief, the interaction with capital gains tax
- Wills and will drafting - formalities and wording, liaison with solicitors and drafting, contents, post-death variations
- Probate
- Obtaining Probate - collecting details of assets, HMRC accounts, preparation of grants
- Administration - collecting assets, settling debts, finalising and distributing estate, accounts
- Taxation matters to consider

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Partners in general practice who are in a position to act as executors of clients' wills.

Acting for Clubs and Associations

Speaker: Val Steward

OBJECTIVES

Special category audits need to have a special effort applied. Entities registered as Industrial and Provident Societies or Friendly Societies under the 1974 Act are among the most common of these special category audits. This course will concentrate on these organisations.

CONTENT

- The main legislation governing clubs and associations including the results of recent consultations on updating the legislation, and changes already implemented
- The de-regulation provisions and the impact these have on the assignment
- The other main laws and regulations applying to clubs and associations, for example the Licensing Act and the Gambling Act
- The impact of the Clarified ISAs (UK and Ireland) on the audit procedures to be applied and the main audit risks and how to deal with them
- How to undertake an independent accountants assignment
- Other topical issues
- Likely future developments
- Adding value to the assignment

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Partners and senior staff who act for clubs and associations.

Acting for Dentists: An Update

Speaker: Bob Trunchion,
MacIntyre Hudson Advisory Services

OBJECTIVES

The face of dentistry has changed dramatically over the last five years and most dentists now have potentially highly profitable businesses which will become less dependent on the NHS despite the introduction of a new contract/PDS. However, the credit crunch has had large effects on some areas of private practice so dentists must, therefore, adapt to this aggressive environment or see their practice shrink.

CONTENT

- The NHS and dentists – an overview
- Fees/income sources for dentists
- Private dental practices
- Structure – associates, support structures, technicians, hygienists
- Accounts, tax, VAT, PAYE problems
- Tax planning – superannuation/pension provision; structure – sole practitioners, associates and companies
- Implications on buying and selling a dental practice

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Accountants who currently act for dentist clients or those wishing to enter this important niche market.

Limited Liability Partnerships

Speaker: John Welsford, Mercia Group Ltd

OBJECTIVES

LLPs have now been with us for nearly 10 years and over 25,000 have been formed. Although the Profession was wary in the early days, LLPs are now seen as a genuine option as a business vehicle. However, the decision to operate as an LLP or to convert to an LLP is not a simple one. The law, regulations and accounting requirements relating to LLPs are complex.

The extremely complex SORP relating to LLPs includes requirements that are positively counter intuitive but the course will clear the confusion. The SORP is due for revision and a draft has been published. By the time of the course the new SORP will be in place and the changes will be highlighted.

CONTENT

Brief introduction to LLPs

Advantages of an LLP

Limited Liability

- What this means
- Personal liability of members - is it a problem?

The accounting of LLPs

- The legal requirements – CA 2006 implications
- The content of the accounts
- Audit and filing requirements

LLP SORP

- Main implications of the SORP
- Allocation of profits
- Members remuneration and capital
- Members annuities
- Changes introduced by the new SORP

The taxation of LLPs

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Partners and all senior staff who advise partnerships and LLPs.

An Introduction to Solicitors' Accounts Rules

Speaker: Andrew Paul, Mercia Group Ltd

OBJECTIVES

The report required by the Law Society under the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998 is one of the more onerous tasks of the independent accountancy practice. Continuing shortages of clients' money has led the Law Society to look carefully at the role of the accountant. It is very difficult to check that a Solicitor is complying with the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998 unless you understand what the current rules are. On completion of this course participants will not only know what the rules consist of and what they say but will also understand what they require a Solicitor to do in practice.

CONTENT

The content will include:

- Outline of client money rules
- Operation of client account
- Deposit interest
- Accountant's report requirements
- Case studies illustrating working's of rules including examples of:
 - client monies cash book and ledger accounts
 - disbursements - professional and other
 - transfers of costs.
- Problem areas

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

The course is aimed at those who undertake the work on Solicitors' records. It is suitable for people with little or no experience of Solicitors work. However it will provide useful revision for those who have been involved in such work but want to ensure they fully understand the requirements and implications. Anyone who has attended this course previously may find the Solicitors' Accounts Rules – A Practical Refresher course a more suitable alternative. An understanding of accounting principles is required.

Solicitors' Accounts Rules - A Practical Refresher

Speaker: Sally Hutchings, Mercia Group Ltd

OBJECTIVES

The report required by the Solicitors' Regulation Authority under the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998 is one of the more onerous tasks of the independent accountancy practice. Although the rules have not been substantially revised since their implementation in 2000 there have been minor amendments and it is vital that staff are fully conversant with the current regulations.

It is also common for firms to have only a small number of these assignments so a refresher on a regular basis is likely to be of benefit to staff undertaking these assignments.

CONTENT

The course will be a combination of formal lecturing and practical case studies which will cover the key aspects of the current Solicitors' Accounts Rules.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

The course is aimed at those who undertake the work on Solicitors' records. It is suitable for people who are involved in the fieldwork on these assignments and is designed to act as a refresher/update on the Solicitors' Accounts Rules. It will be a combination of formal lecturing and case studies/quizzes to illustrate the key points.

It is not suitable for people with no prior experience of SAR as a basic understanding of Solicitors' Accounts Rules is required. People seeking an introduction to the Rules are advised to attend An Introduction to Solicitors' Accounts Rules.

Charities: An Introduction

Speaker: Kris Taylor, Mercia Group Ltd

OBJECTIVES

Acting for charities is high profile work as there is generally a wider public interest in the charity than for the typical audit of a commercial company, as well as accountability to the regulatory authority, the Charity Commission. It is difficult to know if the accounting and reporting requirements are being achieved unless you understand what they are.

On completion of this course participants will understand what the rules and regulations concerning charities are and understand how to act for charities in practice. The course will fully reflect the latest rules, whilst highlighting the key differences arising from recent changes.

CONTENT

- Overview of charity legislation for unincorporated and incorporated charities
- The accounting requirements of Charities Act, Companies Act and SORP 2005
- Fund accounting
- The Statement of Financial Activities and other accounting requirements
- The role of the Independent Examiner, the Reporting Accountant and the Auditor
- Small charities
- Trustees and the trustees' report

The course will be a combination of lecturing, case studies, discussions and questions designed to ensure as much information is retained as possible.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

The course is aimed at those who act for charities. It is suitable for people with little or no experience of charities' work. However, it will provide a useful recap for those who have not been involved in such work recently but who would like an update on the latest accounting and reporting requirements.
